

Mejorando la vida de un niño, tenemos la esperanza de cambiar la fibra de la sociedad

An Adventure in Montessori Teaching in the Mountains of Peru

Join a team of pioneers, become one of the first teachers in a new Montessori school that caters to children of all segments of Peruvian society. While you help this exciting project get off the ground, enjoy the beauty and great weather of the mountains of Peru; also, check off your bucket list a visit to Machu Picchu, and learn everything about the Inca Empire.

In the rural community of Huk'i, located near the city of Calca, in the Region of Cusco, there is an old colonial house where a new Montessori school will start classes in March of 2019 as a center for Early Stimulation. This is an ambitious project of EDUCA MEJOR PERU, which is a non-profit association dedicated to improving the quality of education for all people, without regard to their social or economic status. The school will start with a class of up to 12 children 2 1/2 to 4 years. The teaching team will include one teacher per class and an assistant.

The children at our school will learn 3 languages, Spanish, Quechua (language of the Inca Empire), and English.

Qualifications for this exciting project:

- Love and enthusiasm for working with small children
- Preferably education and experience in Montessori Education, Casa de Bambini with AMI standards a plus
- Preferably fluency in English
- No experience in Montessori Education necessary. We will train volunteers eager to learn.

Stipends to help with travel and accommodation expenses available according to qualifications and experience.
